To Whom It May Concern:

The Natural Medicine Company have utilised Fastway Couriers for a number of years as the primary distribution method for all boxes distributed within Ireland outside of the Greater Dublin Area.

During this time Fastway Couriers have continued to provide a reliable, efficient, courteous and effective service throughout their distribution network and also within their Customer Services Team. We have found the team are always flexible where possible in facilitating us towards meeting our operational requirements. Additionally, the Customer Services Team is quick to respond to all queries, which is further facilitated by the traceability offered on all deliveries throughout their distribution network.

Based upon our experience, I would have no hesitation in recommending the services offered by Fastway Couriers as a potential courier.
